Elder Carey Morgan Writes of Italy.

Elder Carey E. Morgan, of Paris, who is touring Europe and the Holy Land, from on board the Canopic April 6, writes of his first view of Italy.
Landing in Naples Elder Morgan visited the museum and other points of interest in the ancient Italian seaport.
Extracts from his letter to Mrs. Morgan follows:

"On board 'Canopic,' April 6—I have just had my first view of Italy. Vesuvius and the Bay of Naples. The sea is blue, the sky is bright, though it is not warm. We are now within an hour of landing. Ischia is at our left and Capri at our right. We have had a fine voyage in spite of the week of rough weather. I am well and am deeply grateful for having been kept so.

"We have changed our plans a little and go to Rome direct from Naples, then on our return from the Holy Land and Gara, we who expect to go home by way of Europe will see Venice and Munich and go on North from there.
"We have landed in Naples after much delay in the customs house, and after lunching on board the steamer, we went direct to the museum from the boat. This museum has the finest collection of antiquities in the world.
Whole rooms full of wonderful things dug out of the ruins of Pompeii. It was all very wonderful. Besides the vases in bronze and silver, the bracelets of gold, and rings. There were cooking stoves and utensils, great beds, bedsteads, statues, mosaics, pictures, physicians' and dentists' tools and instruments, and a thousand other things from the same ruins, besides many treasures dug from ruins in Rome and other Italian cities.

"We then went to the Aquarium in respect to its water curiosities, the most wonderful in the world. You remember how I enjoyed the Fisheries Building at Chicago's World's Fair, so you may be sure I enjoyed this. We are now at the Hotel Victoria. It fronts on the bay and is a fine place.
Everything is so delightfully foreign and strange. You would laugh yourself sick if you were here to see some of the mistakes I make. I will save my elevator experience to tell when I get home. I have seen something of Soranto and can look out over the Bay of Naples from my hotel window. It is a great delight to me. I am ready now to eat my first dinner in a foreign hotel.

"I send greetings to the church, and pray the dear Father's blessing on all my many friends."

Invisible Finger Sets Mechanism of Old Italian Music Box Again in Motion.

Over fifty years ago Dr. Edward Owings, one of the leading physicians of Paris, and one of the best known residents of the county purchased an imported Italian music box from a New York importing firm and installed it in his home on Pleasant street. The instrument, one of the finest made played the classic Italian operatic music then in vogue.

On returning from a series of professional calls throughout the city and county, worn out, exhausted, Dr. Owings would wind up the instrument, start it to playing, drop his head on his arms on the table would instantly drop into a peaceful slumber lasting for hours, when, unless called professionally, he would awake refreshed mentally and physically.

The day of his death Dr. Owings had the instrument wound up and his favorite airs played and as he sank into the last long sleep requested that the music be repeated but death claimed him for its own before his request could be complied with.

The instrument has for nearly fifty years been in possession of Dr. Owings' sons, Edward and Thomas Owings, at the old home on Pleasant street, having been left undisturbed in the same position on the identical table it occupied at the time of Dr. Owings' death fifty years ago.

Sunday morning Edward Owings was astonished and mystified to hear sounds of music in the room where the box reposed, and calling his brother, Thomas, they made an investigation and found to their amazement that the old music box which for fifty years had remained wound up and untouched in a remote corner of the room, had, as if touched by an invisible finger suddenly resumed playing the very airs which their father had called and wished for on his death-bed.

The room in which the instrument stood had not been disturbed and the instrument itself under lock and key had never been touched by human hands save for occasional dusting in the long period following its distinguished owner's death.

The Owings brothers made a thorough examination of the instrument after it had ceased playing and found nothing unusual in the mechanism, and are at a loss to explain the mystery.

Important Decision.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals in the case of the Stewart Iron Works Company, of Kenton county, against James Auditor, held that a Kentucky company must pay a license tax based on its business, and not alone on the actual sale of its products in Kentucky. The iron works company did a business of $600,000 a year, but only sold $30,000 of its products in Kentucky and contended its license tax should be based on these $30,000 and not on the $600,000.

Comet Conspicuous Early Next Month.

Halley's Comet, according to Prof.
Jerman G. Porter, of the Mt. Lookout Observatory, will be most conspicuous in the early part of May. It is still approaching the earth and is now in its period of greatest development.

On May 2 the comet passes Venus, which will also be at its period of greatest brilliancy, and the two heavily bodies will only be twelve degrees apart in the sky. From now until May 14 the comet will be visible in the early morning, rising two hours before the sun.

On May 8 the comet will pass directly between the earth and the sun, at a distance from the earth of 14,000,000 miles, which as astronomers reckon space, is comparatively short.
Prof. Porter gives his assurance that, although the tail of the comet will sweep the earth, no harm or danger of any kind may be feared. This tail is composed of impalpable dust which even the most refined observations will be unable to detect.

"The Man at the Bat, or a Home- Run."

Before an audience of several hundred people, of which full two hundred were professional, semi-professional and amateur players, the Rev. John G.
Schaibley, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, of Newport, delivered Sunday night his famous sermon on "The Man at the Bat, or a Home-Run."

In the audience were twenty members of the Cincinnati Reds, and St. Louis Cardinals, both of which teams were playing in Cincinnati.

Dr. Schaibley likened the battle of life to the battle on the diamond; said the grandstand was the rest of the world, where the "rooting" and "knocking" was done; that the man at bat has nine opponents, and must work hard to get "safe" on first, and that if he makes a "home-run" he will be cheered as he touches the "plate."

He says that a great deal of "foul play" has always characterized life, but that it's a good thing, because it helps the "man at bat" by getting up his dander.

He characterized the three bases on the life diamond to be faith, hope and love, and he asked the ballplayers and others present to always "pop up a fly" so that they should look heavenward.

Throughout his sermon there was much of the slang of the diamond, but it was all used to the best of advantage and a point was scored on every slang expression.

Steer Strayed into Cold Storage.

A dead and dismembered steer in cold storage is a thing to be lightly considered but to find a live steer in cold storage, contentedly munching straw after an imprisonment of several days is indeed a novelty.

That's the unusual sight that greeted Bishop Hibler of the firm of Bishop Hibler & Bro., when in searching for a lost steer he found the animal in an air-tight ice-house on his farm.

Five steers had strayed and four were recovered but the fifth seemed a case of mysterious disappearance.
Then on the day of its disappearance a farm and recalled having seen the steer near the big ice-house containing several hundred tons of ice, the door of which had been left open and closed that night.

The steer, straying in the open door, fell through the opening but uninjured calmly munched straw in a temperature of zero, and then some, until taken from the Arctic quarters.

Mr. Hibler says this is the only known instance in his many years of experience as a farmer, stock dealer and trader that a live steer voluntarily went into cold storage.

L. & N. Extension in Nicholas.

A dispatch from Carlisle says that the Louisville and Nashville railroad is contemplating an extension of their lines through Nicholas county. The main line from Cincinnati to Butler is to be made a double track and there a line will be constructed through Pendleton, Robertson, Nicholas and Bath counties to the Morgan county coal fields.

This report is not verified, the local officials of the Louisville and Nashville declaring when asked about the proposed line, that they had heard mention of it from railroad men and that the report was generally circulated among the workmen of the railroad.

ELECTION RETURNS TO SUIT.

Swung States and National Chairmen Into Line in His Reports and Gave the Boys of the Mining Camp the Time of Their Lives.

A funny incident happened on the night of the national election of 1896 in a little camp tucked away in the mountains of southwestern Colorado, where the only means of quick communication with the world was a single uncertain telegraph wire and a single more uncertain telegraph operator.
Naturally only the merest scraps of election news reached the camp, but before the certain news of McKinley's election could have been got the uncertain operator had fallen a victim to his favorite vice and, further, had fallen beneath the table.

The only other person who knew anything about telegraphy was "Shorty," the local wit and humorist, who volunteered to write out the election returns as they clicked off from the telegraph instrument. Political sentiment was adamant for Bryan. News of his election was not only sought, but demanded, for the average American miner is as sanguine concerning the uncertainties of politics as he is concerning the uncertainties of mining. The volunteer tele-grapher was noted for an obliging disposition. He was the "genial" of the camp.

The "boys" had placed stores of gun powder at various points. They had cleaned and oiled their six shooters and reloaded their cartridge belts.
Bonfires were ready to be lighted on the hillsides, and natural enthusiasm had been stimulated at the Metropole, the Cosmopolitan, the Fashion, the Trocadero and less pretentiously named oases in the desert of mining camp existence—in fact, every preliminary to the grandest celebration the San Juan country ever had known.

Shorty was not the man to neglect an opportunity like that. The first bulletin he handed to the waiting crowd stated that New York and Indiana were in doubt and it looked like a close election, with the chances favoring Bryan. That whetted the crowd's keen appetite for returns to razor edge. The second bulletin sent their spirits up with a leap. "Bryan has carried Kansas, and the Democrats are claiming Iowa."

"Whoopie!" from the crowd.
Shorty bent his ear to the clicking sounder and inscribed "Bulletin No. 3—Illinois joins the Bryan column with 50,000 majority. Indiana certain, New York very close."

When the deafening chorus had died down a young member of the party asked the leader, "Hain't we better begin to set off the giant?"

Before the leader could answer Shorty reproved him by word and look. "Don't go off half cocked," he said. "It's always best to wait until you are sure. You can't be too conservative in a case like this."

After a long pause, in which the crowd displayed much impatience, the imperturbable and conservative Shorty transcribed bulletin No. 4, but before passing it out he said:

"Now, boys, don't do anything rash.
Wait for the actual returns."

Bulletin No. 4 read, "Senator Jones claims Ohio and Pennsylvania for Bryan."

Under ordinary circumstances a doubt might have been expressed concerning the probability of such states reversing their political records, but the crowd was convinced of an impending landslide for their favorite and yelled with delight. "Now we are beginning to get the news," remarked Shorty when the cheering ceased, and he began to write bulletin No. 5 as follows:

"New York gives Bryan 100,000 plurality; Indiana, 40,000. Returns from Wisconsin and Minnesota indicate large Democratic gains."

"The crowd heard only the first sentence. Shouting, cheering, yelling, screaming; it broke for the street."

"Hold on!" called Shorty. "Here's another."

Bulletin No. 6. "Quay concedes Pen-sylvania to Bryan."

Another fragment broke from the crowd and ran down the street shouting the news. The new operator's pencil was traveling rapidly over the paper, while his friends and fellow citizens crowded closely upon him and read as he wrote bulletin No. 7. "Mark Hanna has locked up Republican headquarters and gone home."

The roar of the crowd was drowned by the roar of exploding gun powder.
Buildings shook, windows rattled, accompanied by the crash of broken glass. The celebration was on, and Shorty McIntyre was alone.

The celebration lasted for two days.
The morning after election the regular operator had recovered sufficiently to transcribe messages announcing Mc-Kinley's victory. Those who were sober enough to understand them didn't believe them. After several warnings of what would happen to him if he didn't quit "trying to fool people" the operator desisted and joined in the general jubilation. Not until the arrival of the Denver papers on the second day did that camp awake to a realization of the outcome of the election, and then there was not sufficient energy left to vent even indignation upon Shorty, much less to take revenge. On the third day the volunteer operator was more popular than ever, for all admitted he had given them the time of their lives.—New York Post.

A CORROBORATION

Of Interest to Paris Readers.

For months Paris citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by Paris residents. Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement? No stronger proof of merit could be had than cures that have stood the test of time. The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Paris reader:

Mrs. J. W. Huffman, 115, N. Main street, Paris, Ky., says: "I gladly corroborate the public statement I gave in 1905 in which I made the fact known that I had used Doan's Kidney Pills with satisfactory results. I had sharp pains across my back and kidneys and at times was so miserable that I could hardly attend to my work.
Headaches and dizzy spells were also common. Doan's Kidney Pills removed all these symptoms and I have never had a return attack."

cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo,

Have You Been Counted?

If you live in Paris and the census enumerator should happen to miss you report the fact, or if you know of a friend or neighbor who has been missed see to it that he is reported, and counted also. It is important that every citizen, without regard to age, color or sex should be counted. In this way only can the exact population of the city of Paris be ascertained. Let every citizen make it his duty to be on the lookout for people who have been missed.

Nineteen Saloons Granted License.

Nineteen saloon-keepers of the city of Paris stood the raise to $1,000 and applied to the Council for license which were granted at the meeting of the Board last night. Only three of the twenty-one saloons now in this city will go out of business as a result of the increase voted by the Council at its last regular meeting. They are E. H. Brannon, H. D. Alexander and John Schwartz. The raise in the license means an increase in the city's revenue in the sum of $3,700 annually.

Claims to the amount of $315.47 were approved and allowed by the Board, and six building permits granted.

An ordinance requiring saloon-keepers to remove all scenes to give a clear view of the interior on Sunday and between the hours of 11 p. m. and 5 a. m. passed unanimously. The ordinance provided for a fine of from $10 to $25 for violation. An ordinance prohibiting owners from allowing stock to run at large was also passed, and a license of $100 for the conducting of wholesale liquor business was voted. This license applies to brewing agencies in this city.

Mayor Hinton was authorized by the Council to employ three men to assist in taking the census of the city of Paris. The men employed by Mayor Hinton will make a house to house canvass and those who have been missed by the enumerators will be reported to those employed by the Government in this work.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—The most valuable horse in the world is said to be Bayardo, an English three-year-old whose owner cares more for the horse than money, having recently refused an offer of $280,000.

—The Tennessee Agricultural Department claims to have developed a red clover that is immune from the well known "clover sickness" and which will produce two bushels of seed per acre. Quite a number of farmers in the State are trying it and if the claims made for it prove correct it will be a good thing for the farmers, as the attempt to grow clover there had nearly ceased.

—Mt. Sterling Democrat: "Last year Sam Turley, a leading farmer of Montgomery county, bought three gilts, for which he paid $27. From them he got his meat hogs for a large family the value of the hogs killed being fully $225; sold ten 219-pound shoats for $219 and has three sows left, one with eight pigs, and one due to pig in a few days, all valued at $75; a total of $516 from an investment of $27 one year. Who can beat this and what business would beat it?"

—Reports from various sections of the Burley district indicate that tobacco plants are not injured by the recent severe freeze, which wrought such havoc with fruit and garden truck. Few, if any, tobacco plants, have been set, being yet in the beds, where they were protected by canvas, which prevented frost from injuring them. Judging from the number of plant beds and the excellent condition of the plants, the tobacco acreage will be even greater this year than last, when it broke all previous records.

—FLEMING COURT—The Gazette says: "Monday brought a large crowd to town. It was horse day, and several handsome stallions were on display, and a number of horses sold, though there was no large business. In the cattle line Mr. R. S. Hudson reports about 250 head here, and all sold at the highest prices of the year. Most sales were by the head, and good steers brought 6 to 12 cents per pound, and heifers 5 to 6 cents. There was one bunch of 60 sheep on the market, but it did not sell. Hogs were worth about 8 1/2 cents, and one sow and nine pigs brought $65."

—The gentle rain Monday night which accompanied by rising temperature, had a beneficial effect on the damaged fruit and vegetation according to Mr. H. F. Hillenmeyer, the Lexington nurseryman, reasserting the blighted garden stuff and modifying the injurious effect of the freeze. Later observations disclose the fact, according to Mr. Hillenmeyer, that the fruit in this section is not entirely killed, apples, piums and some of the harder fruits being only partially damaged. If there is no more frost, it is thought that these fruits will "come out" some, and yield a partial return, though the damage has been widespread and will materially diminish the fruit and vegetable crop.

—The Georgetown Times says: "It is a strong temptation to people who have a piece of ground to plant a garden as soon as a few warm days come in the spring, but experience teaches that in late years early planting don't pay. Some years ago a gentleman who lived near Georgetown had an old Irishman as gardener and he was a good one. He said when the first warm day came in March he would spade up a piece of ground and plant a few seeds to please the madam, and along about the first of May, when the ground got warm and all danger of frost was passed, he planted seed in order to have vegetables to eat. There was wisdom in his talk and action. Experience is a hard teacher, but many people, who have a garden spot, especially town people forget it, so far as early planting is concerned."

Revolution.

Our greatest thinkers and writers tell us we are breathing the atmosphere of revolution—not of blood—but of ideas, as become twentieth century folk.—Jessica Ford Reynolds.

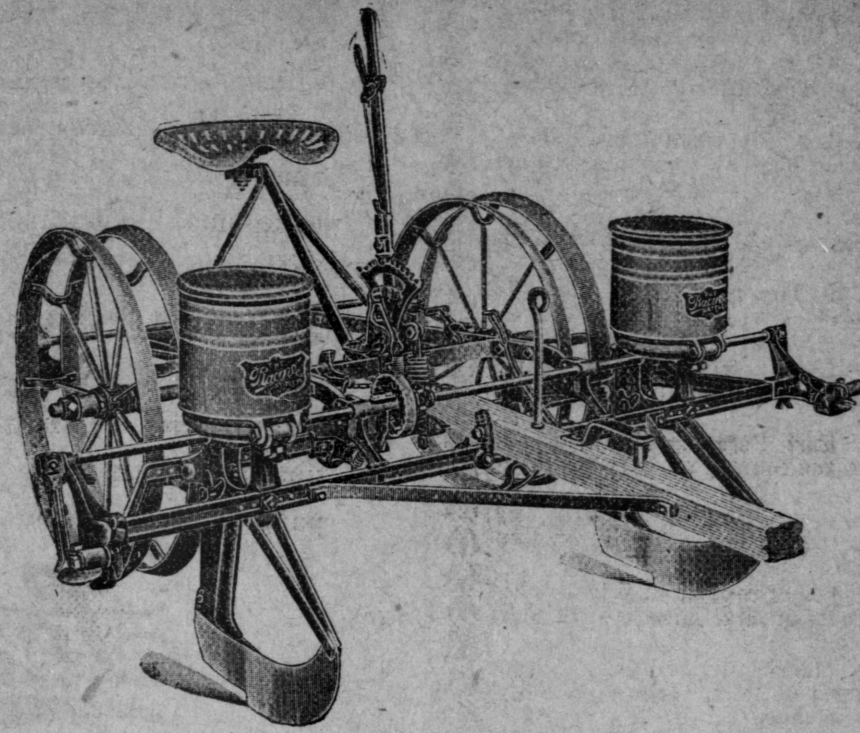

The Staff of Life.

In a bulletin on "Bread and Bread Making," the United States Department of Agriculture summarizes a vast deal of information on the subject in the statement that "well-made bread of any kind is a very nutritious food." It is added that the differences between the various kinds "are too small to be of practical importance to persons of healthy digestions and comfortable circumstances." As this seems to cover everything from Graham crackers to alfalfa biscuits, the consumer is at liberty to pay his money and take his choice, says the Courier-Journal.

Those who have been unable to overcome a life long partiality for hot rolls will rejoice to know that the bread experts of the department do not take much stock in the popular theory as to the unwholesomeness of hot bread. "As far as is now known," it is said, "the changes ordinarily occurring in good bread as it ages does not affect its digestibility unless it becomes so dry as to become unappetizing." The trend of the observations along this line is to the effect that hot bread well Fletcherized is about as digestible as any other kind, provide the consumer's digestive apparatus is in fair working order.

The digestibility of the bread depends largely on the making thereof. A light, flaky biscuits less likely to stir up trouble in the human interior than a hard, soggy biscuit. The latter variety is bad regardless of its age or temperature. Not all persons who mix dough know how to make bread. In fact, the world is full of atrocities masked under the name of biscuits and rolls. It is gravely to be doubted if any one's digestion was ever seriously impaired by hot bread that was properly made and cooked. It was hardly necessary that the Agricultural Department should tell us that heavily, badly raised bread is not palatable and is generally considered to be unwholesome. Most of us know that from experience, it is rather strange that a product of that kind should be so common in a country where cooking schools are so numerous.

The ideal carriage horse is the American trotting bred horse, with size, speed, courage, and the true trotting gait, with plenty of knee and hock action. In addition he must have a clean cut head and neck, style and finish, plenty of substance without coarseness.

Recognizing the demand for this class of horses, I selected Taylor Simmons 23489, a young horse which fills all the requirements of the typical carriage horse. If the theory that "like begets like" be true, he will produce horses of this type when mated with good mares. Through his veins flow the blood of the greatest trotting families. He traces twice to George Wilkes and five times to Mambrino Chief II. This is backed by the stout thoroughbred blood of Boston.

Free Dyspepsia Sample

Sufferers from indigestion are waking up to the fact that peppermint lozenges, charcoal and "dyspepsia cures" are only makeshifts in the cure of so troublesome a complaint as chronic indigestion. What is required is something that will not only relieve but which will tone and train the digestive apparatus to again do its work normally, and this these simple remedies cannot do.

There is something more to the cure of indigestion than sweetening the breath, and yet a remedy that only contains digestive ingredients will not cure permanently, as the basis of indigestion is poor bowel circulation, and that requires a scientific laxative. We know of no remedy that combines these requirements better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which has been sold for a quarter of a century.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a laxative tonic, a scientific blending of natural ingredients for the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sour stomach, sick headache and similar complaints. Its ingredients will so strengthen that they will again do their work naturally, and when that has been accomplished your trouble is over. Fannie Stuart, Staunton, Va., was a long-time sufferer, as were Tuck, Blackburn, Mo., and they both found their cure with this remedy. They became convinced that pills and tablets, salts, "dyspepsia cures," etc., were at best only temporary reliefs. They first accepted Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free sample bottle, which he willingly sends to anyone who forwards name and address. Later, having convinced themselves through the free sample, they bought Syrup Pepsin from their druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Great Exposition Being Planned for Southland

Resources of the Appalachian Mountain Region to Be Displayed to World.

A great exposition, to exploit the resources of the Appalachian mountain region, included in the states of Alabama, Georgia, North and South Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia, will be held in Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 12 to Oct. 12, next. The movement has been organized purely in the interest of letting the outside world know what is included in these mountains. The possibilities for developing untold wealth are seemingly unlimited. It is with a view to attracting the attention of the people of these Appalachian states, as well as of the entire nation, to these opportunities and possibilities that this exposition is to be held. In addition to the commercial and industrial sides, however, there will be many amusement features, and the historic grandeur of the Appalachian territory will be told in panoramas, tableaux, spectacles and by other means that will prove highly interesting and entertaining. The whole plan will be to arouse a new interest in the Appalachian territory, and bring the people of the Appalachian states closer together. That the exposition will be a success is already assured, and more than 300,000 visitors are expected during the four weeks it continues.

Horses, Mules and Cattle Are Raised

Appalachian Mountain Region Affords Abundant Opportunities.

The Appalachian region is unequalled in America as a home for breeding establishments. The winters are not too rigorous and summer's heat is tempered by breezes wafted from mountain ranges and foothills into the fertile valleys lying between. Cattle from this region are shipped to Baltimore and exported, commanding highest prices in European centers. The Tennessee mule is second to none, not even the Missouri or Kentucky mule. Not so large as the Missouri animal, the Tennessee product combines all the good qualities of the would-be rivals and excels them in durability, stamina and as a beast of burden for all-around general purposes.

Mountain ranges in profusion make the Appalachian the ideal section for sheep raising—a most profitable and much neglected industry.

While Kentucky is the home of the thoroughbred, and justly proud of her reputation, the pacing steed marvels of the grand circuit are the evolution of the old "side-wheeler" pacers used by devout circuit riders before the civil war in going from church to church in the mountains and valleys of the Appalachian country. The "Patch" and "Gentry" families of noted racers are the perfected descendants of those ambling mountain limbers, and there's nothing lacking but the investment of capital by experienced men in various lines of stock raising to make this the Mecca of animal industry, now but in its infancy.

Farmers at last are beginning to see their opportunities and are taking up the breeding of thoroughbred stock. It costs but little more, and the returns are invitingly larger. In nearly every county seat during the fall race meetings and fairs are held, and large attendance attests the growing of the interest.

A more inviting region for the breeder of the thoroughbred and the standard-bred horse is not to be found, while, agriculturally, the fertile valleys are a veritable paradise. The possibilities of this region, not only as adapted to stock raising, agriculture and mining, but to all other proposed avenues of industry, will be fully set out at the Appalachian Exposition, to be held in Knoxville, Tenn., September 12 to October 12, next. This will be the greatest exposition the south has ever known.

Rich In Mineral Wealth That Awaits Developing.

Valuable Coal, Iron, Marble, Zinc, Lead and Other Resources Will Be Exhibited in Appalachian Exposition.

One of the richest regions in the entire country is the Appalachian chain of mountains, in which vast deposits of coal, iron, lead, zinc, gold, silver and other minerals of value are to be found. The fruits of these mountains will be displayed to advantage at the Appalachian Exposition, to be held in Knoxville, Tenn., September 12 to October 12, next. The minerals exhibit will be housed in an appropriate building, and it will be one of the prides of the exposition to give the world at large a glimpse of what is to be found in this region, which includes part of eight southern states. It will be but another lesson to men of the north and east and west, as to the great natural wealth of the south. This display should be seen.

Preserving Pencil Marks. If the paper on which there is black-lead pencil writing is brushed over with a thin coating of white of egg, or varnish, the pencil marks will be preserved from liability to defacement.

Stomach Blood and Liver Troubles

Much sickness starts with weak stomach, and consequent poor, impoverished blood. Nervous and pale-people lack good, rich, red blood. Their stomachs need invigorating for, after all, a man can be no stronger than his stomach. A remedy that makes the stomach strong and the liver active, makes rich red blood and overcomes and drives out disease-producing bacteria and cures a whole multitude of diseases.

Get rid of your Stomach Weakness and Liver Laziness by taking a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the Great Stomach Restorative, Liver Invigorator and Blood Cleanser.

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

—Miss Ruth McClintock left Thursday for Eminence to take part in the wedding of Miss Edith McGinnis, which will take place Saturday.

—Miss Lyle Hutchison, who has been teaching at Smithville since last fall, arrived Monday as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. M. J. Caldwell, and family, enroute to her home at Newport.

—Miss Nannie Louise Best left Berlin on the 26th of April, after a short stay in England she will sail for home. Miss Best has been two years abroad perfecting her musical education, her many friends will gladly welcome her return.

—One of the prettiest home weddings seen here in a long time was that at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Carpenter, when her eldest daughter, Miss Mary Sanford Carpenter, became the wife of Mr. Urban M. Swinford, of Carlisle, at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. This was an event of no little importance, dress-makers have been busy for weeks preparing gowns for the occasion. The weather which had been unpropitious for a week gave way to something better and the heavens smiled on this young couple as they passed from single blessedness into bliss. A large number of friends and relatives from this and other places were present. The beautiful country home was brilliantly illuminated and the whole scene presented a fairy-like aspect. At the appointed time the bridal party assembled in the drawing room and as the spacious doors of the large hall were thrown open separating the drawing room from the parlor the soft low strains of Wagner's "Lohengrin" was heard manipulated by the skillful fingers of Miss Katherine Sue Miller, the bride of one week hence. Mr. Swinford entered the parlor on the arm of his brother, Dr. L. C. Swinford, of Cynthiana. Miss Carpenter followed on the arm of her sister, Miss Julia Carpenter. The gentlemen were attired in the conventional black. The bride in hand-painted white mulle with pink roses with veil carrying a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. They were met under a white wedding bell beneath a beautiful arch supported by two columns made of smilax and snow balls, just within the gates of love which were standing open ready to receive them, by Elder W. A. Gardner, the officiating minister. Just as the bridal party took their position the music changed from the wedding march to Mendelssohn's spring song, the Episcopal ceremony was used and was beautifully rendered. At the close of which the bridal couple received congratulations while Mendelssohn's wedding march was being played. A three hour reception then followed which will be remembered by all present. At eleven o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Swinford took an automobile for Carlisle. Mr. Swinford is a prominent young attorney and County Commissioner of Nicholas, and the son of Wm. Swinford, Mayor of Cynthiana. Owing to Circuit Court convening in Carlisle in May the bridal tour has been postponed until June, when they will combine it with their summer outing and be absent from home about three months. Miss Carpenter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carpenter, who are among our wealthiest and most prominent citizens. She is a graduate of the Millersburg Female College very accomplished in social and church circles. The wedding presents were handsome and costly. Guests were present from all surrounding towns.

—The following witnessed the work of Headquarters Lodge F. & A. M., in conferring the Third Degree, on Thursday evening. The work was well done and followed by a delightful banquet such as this lodge knows how to do well. Quite a number of brilliant toasts were responded to. The visitors from Amity were: Messrs. W. A. Butler, W. V. Shaw, Joe W. Mock, P. L. Dimmitt, F. F. Hurst, Nat Collier, J. H. Burroughs, Durwin Mason, R. M. Caldwell and Dr. W. G. Dailey.

High-Class Bill

Lovers of vaudeville had an opportunity on Wednesday and Thursday night of seeing one of the best vaudeville bills ever presented in Paris and of the great number of people who witnessed the performances of the last two nights not a word of unfavorable criticism was to be heard.

Pelham and Imig, with little May Imig presented an act which was entirely new to the theatre-goers of this city and their efforts were highly appreciated by those present. The sketch ranks with the best and the acting of the little four-year-old girl was one of the pleasing features of the performance.

The Wren trio in singing, dancing and comedy, captivated the audience with their cleverness. Mrs. Wren did nothing clever work with the rifle which started her as one of the most remarkable markswomen in the world performing the difficult feat of hitting an object with her back to it and only with the aid of a little hand mirror. Other feats were shooting out a lighted candle and knocking the fire from the end of a cigar in the mouth of Mr. Wren.

Last night pictures of a dozen or more of the handsomest babes in Paris were thrown upon the screen and they are only a few of the number that will be entered in the contest for the diamond ring which the management will give to the one receiving the largest number of votes, the balloting upon which will begin on Monday night having been postponed from last night in order to give everyone an equal chance in the voting.

Another good vaudeville bill is announced for the Grand tonight and tomorrow night, embracing Polly Hargis, singing and talking comedienne, and Avey & Ferris in a comedy sketch, "The College Boy and the City Girl."

The voting on the handsomest baby contest will begin Monday night. See ring in Winter's window, and enter your baby in the contest by having your photographer make a picture of it not later than Monday morning.

Ball Players at Practice Again.

Sunshine, the glorious sunshine—after three days of as gloomy weather as was ever experienced in the spring—has again made its appearance, for how long, it is not safe to say, but all the same it has afforded a great opportunity for the ball players to again get down to practice and its warmth brought out the Bourbonites' squad, yesterday for a few hours after being cooped up for three days by the inclement weather.

For two hours yesterday morning and a little longer in the afternoon Manager McKernan took the men through some hard work. As the infield was soggy, caused by the recent heavy rains, practice was difficult, but they made the best of it under the circumstances and their work shows that they are rounding out and will be ready for the opening game with the Colts on May 5.

At the speed which the Shamrocks are expected to carry them on Saturday and Sunday, these games should prove of great benefit to the men, as they have not been pressed to their full extent in any exhibition game in which they have played. Anyway, with a few more warm, sunny days our boys will be in good trim to administer a drubbing to the Colts in the opening game.

Saturday afternoon and Sunday the Bourbonites will meet the Shamrocks, of Cincinnati, and a good game on both occasions is expected. The Shamrocks are made up of some of the best base ball material in the Queen City, including several professional and semi-professional players, among the number being Valloise, who several years ago played with the independent team in this city under the management of Desha Lucas.

Monday afternoon the team from State University will meet the Bourbonites at White Park. The S. U. boys have just returned from a successful trip in the South and Wednesday defeated the Cincinnati University by a decisive score. They promise to make things interesting for the locals this game.

The last game before the opening of the League season will be played on Tuesday afternoon between Paris and the team from North Middletown.

Manager McKernan will give the men a rest on the day before the opening of the league at Lexington on Thursday and will devote the time to the arrangement of a set of playing signals for the club, and drilling the men thoroughly on the work of inside baseball. Manager McKernan believes that he has the best code that has ever been adopted by any manager and thinks that it will prove very effective against his opponents.
